

HTML5 for Beginners: Learn by Video

Create a Simple but State-of-the-Art Website

Table of Contents

What Is HTML5?

- ▶ Understanding Hypertext Markup Language (HTML) 07:47
- ▶ Learning the Parts of a Web Page 05:15
- ▶ Writing Your First Snippets of Code 03:01
- ▶ Understanding How Browsers Interpret HTML 01:50
- ▶ Comparing Web Browsers and How They Display Web Pages 02:34
- ☑ Test Yourself

Understanding HTML5 Markup and CSS3

- ▶ Examining HTML Tags 02:14
- ▶ Incorporating HTML5 Tags 02:42
- ▶ Adding Style with CSS3 02:44
- ▶ Working with CSS and HTML5 Together 03:25
- ☑ Test Yourself

Beginning with Wireframing

- ▶ Deciding How Your Site Will Work 05:07
- ▶ Planning the Hierarchy of Your Site 03:08
- ▶ Creating Your First Wireframe 02:36
- ▶ Thinking About Usability 02:06
- ☑ Test Yourself

Creating a Simple Blog Design with HTML5

- ▶ Changing the DOCTYPE of Your HTML5 Document 03:03
- ▶ Understanding the Elements of a Blog 01:53
- ▶ Adding a Header and Footer to Your Blog 02:52
- ▶ Posting to Your Blog 02:12
- ▶ Adding a Sidebar with the Aside Element 03:01
- ▶ Using Lists to Organize Content 03:43
- ▶ Creating Tables in a Web Page 06:04
- ☑ Test Yourself

Designing an HTML5 Form

- ▶ Beginning to Design a Form 03:10
- ▶ Understanding Basic Form Elements 03:55
- ▶ Adding an Attribute to the New HTML5 Input Tag 04:09
- ▶ Highlighting Important Content 02:17
- ☑ Test Yourself

Incorporating Graphics

▶ Understanding Web Graphic Formats	03:24
▶ Saving Graphics Properly for the Web	06:58
▶ Working with Color on the Web	03:03
▶ Resources for Designing with Color	03:36
▶ Exploring the Canvas Tag	05:34
☑ Test Yourself

Adding Multimedia

▶ Why Use Multimedia?	02:56
▶ Adding Audio to Your Contact Form	03:35
▶ Understanding Video Types for the Web	01:24
▶ Working with Video Controls	03:30
☑ Test Yourself

Conclusion

▶ Updating Your Blog	02:17
▶ Changing the Look and Feel of Your Site	02:15
▶ Conclusion	02:03
☑ Test Yourself	